Nature Of Training:

The Salinas SWAT conducted less lethal training at the Salinas Police Range. This training included a lecture portion of the use of the 40mm less lethal launcher, training munition and duty munition. A written test was administered to those in attendance.

Less lethal launcher deployment training was then conducted at the Salinas Police Range. Different scenarios were incorporated. Verbal and de-escalation scenarios were utilized during the training. The deployment included targeting the target zones on simulated subject targets. Lethal coverage was also utilized during the scenarios with the use of rifle simmunition at the targets. Multiple distances were used during the scenarios.

Precision deployment was also incorporated to simulate the use of the less lethal 40mm at cameras and vehicle windows and vehicle outside mirrors taking into consideration where the subject(s) are located inside a vehicle.
